The Vessel and its many masts, sails, ropes, pulley blocks, lines, chains, yards, booms, spars, pin rails, rigging and safety, life-saving, navigation, communications, maneuvering, anchoring and signaling equipment are actively used during the Cruise by the crew to operate the Vessel who pull on the ropes, climb the masts and work overhead as the Vessel responds to the wind and the waves.

To provide an interesting experience and allow Guests to observe the crew at work, there are no physical barriers obstructing Guests' view of the sea or separating Guests from the crew or the Vessel's equipment while they work. Guests will be in a dynamic environment unlike that of any other vessels they may be familiar with such as ferries or cruise ships or on land. Subject to the foregoing, the Company accepts responsibility for the proven negligence of itself or its employees but will not accept responsibility for the negligence of others. The Purchaser expressly acknowledges on its own behalf and on behalf of Guests that the provisions of this Condition satisfy the requirements of reasonableness specified in the Unfair Contract Terms Act Cap 396 and that they shall be estopped from claiming the contrary at any future date in the event of any dispute with the Company or its employees concerning this Condition. If notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Condition, the Company or its employees are found by any competent court to be liable for any such loss or damage of property or any injury or death of the Purchaser or any Guest, the aggregate liability of the Company and its employees shall not exceed any sum paid by the Purchaser to the Company..

- 9 The Company may for any reason which need not be disclosed, refuse to permit any person to embark onto or may require the Purchaser to immediately remove any employee, agent or contractor of the Purchaser or any Guest from the Vessel or the Company's premises, failing which the Company may do so, all with the Purchaser's co-operation and assistance and at the Purchaser's expense.
