

Dear Parent,

Infants onboard (children up to 4 years of age)

Unless additional precautions are taken, the upper deck of Royal Albatross is unsuitable for younger children, furthermore should they accidentally fall overboard, the chances of survival are slim to none due to the darkness and the strong currents around Singapore waters.

If you agree to accept these risks and take the additional precautions below, we will consider making an exception to board your child onboard Royal Albatross and allow them access to the upper deck provided that:

- a) the parents closely observe the infants whereabouts at all times and
- b) ensure that the infant wears a harness that is tethered to a parent at all times. You may bring your own harness or they may be purchased at registration; but are subject to availability.
- c) an infant life jacket and fitting instructions maybe issued by the crew to the parent upon boarding.

If at any time the above precautions cannot be compiled with, the infant and at least one parent per child to supervise, must remain in the Grand Salon which is an enclosed fully air-conditioned area on the main deck.

Lastly, we would also like to point out that ultimately, it is the Captain's privilege and decision to deny any passenger boarding. Should he exercise that discretion (for example but not limited to: a child's harness is absent or not fitting properly), boarding maybe denied, in which case the Company shall allow the guests to reschedule their cruise and waive any change fees.

We hope you understand that our approach is in the strict interests of safety for all passengers onboard and we need to look into such matters on a case by case basis.

Kindly complete and sign below to indicate your agreement with the above.
